COMPANY OVERVIEW

Living Waters Investigation and Protection LLC is a veteran-owned professional services firm providing investigative services, security consulting, risk management, emergency preparedness support, and professional training solutions.

The firm is led by a former U.S. Marshals Service Senior Criminal Investigator with more than 20 years of federal investigative, operational, program development, and risk assessment experience.

Living Waters delivers practical, mission-focused solutions that help government agencies, educational institutions, private businesses, and community organizations identify risks, reduce vulnerabilities, strengthen security programs, and improve organizational readiness.

Our approach combines real-world investigative expertise, security risk management principles, emergency preparedness practices, and professional instruction to support safer and more resilient organizations.
